EX-SULTAN IN EGYPT

Attendants Have Great Task to Keep Him Within Bounds.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.]
Cairo, July 16.—Mual Abdal Aziz, the ex-sultan of Morocco, who is on his way to Egypt, is here.

The ex-sultan retained the royal suite of rooms at Shepherd's Hotel, where he received visits from the religious and other notables of Cairo, and also from numerous Moors, many of whom are domiciled in Egypt, and among whom he has met some old friends.
Mual Abdal Aziz has been bent on having a good time. It is apparently the first time he has left his native country, and he is tasting to the full the first fruits of civilization, such as are to be found in Cairo. The ex-sultan has been over on the go, and his prodigious and (even for Cairo) extremely Oriental tastes are a great tax on his European attendants, who have extreme difficulty in keeping him within bounds.

Is Drinking Your Stumbling Block?

YOU can't hold your job if you drink liquor to excess. You know it and so do I. Let's pass over all the other phases of the drinking question and look at the matter from a cold dollars and cents standpoint. Just the same as any other business question.

If your health was badly impaired and you could be restored again to perfect vigor and strength for a few hundred dollars you would gladly spend the money, wouldn't you? You would consider it a good investment.

Now that's just the situation in taking the Keeley cure.
The drinking habit is impairing your health and your earning power, until even your job is uncertain.

You say you could stop drinking if you wanted to. Perhaps you could. But then you don't. So the same endless loss goes on.

We can stop this loss of earning power for you and stop it now. In just a few weeks we can give you a healthy, new energy and new ambition, and put you again on the high road to greater business success. It's a business opportunity that will pay you many thousand per cent. on the investment. As a cold business proposition—isn't it worth looking into?

WILL CELEBRATE HISTORICAL EVENT

Anniversary of Cornwallis's Surrender to Be Observed at Yorktown.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Yorktown, July 16.—At a recent meeting of the board of governors of the Yorktown Historical Society of the United States, held in the Bellevue-Stratford, Philadelphia, it was decided that the society should celebrate on October 19 next the one hundred and twenty-ninth anniversary of the surrender of Cornwallis at Yorktown. A committee, consisting of the president of the society, Henry Reed Hatfield, of Philadelphia; Colonel Onward Tighman, of Maryland; Henry Morris, of Pennsylvania; Braxton D.
Gibson, of West Virginia; Rev. George Washington Dams, of Maryland; Albert McCallan Mathewson, of Connecticut; Harmon P. Read, of New York; Conway H. Sheldahl, of New McKean, of Yorktown, was appointed to make all necessary arrangements for the celebration, which gives promise of being much more notable than that of last year, which was acknowledged to be a pronounced success.
Governor Mann has already contented to attend the celebration as presiding officer. An earnest effort will be made to have Virginia well represented by its State officers and other distinguished men, as well as a good representation of the State National Guard. Invitations will be sent to all of the thirteen original States to have them represented by some of their military and naval organizations. It is also probable that a subcommittee of the above-named committee will visit the President at his summer home and urge his attendance as the orator of the occasion. The French ambassador at Washington will be also asked to be present and deliver an address. Both the War and Navy Departments will be urged to send both war vessels and the various branches of the military of the United States. The citizens of York county, as was the case last year, are evincing great interest in the celebration, and will soon organize to co-operate with the Historical Society.

Services in the Churches

Unless otherwise noted in this column the usual services will be held at the customary hours by the regular pastors.

"Old" First English Evangelical Lutheran: The last services in the old church building will be held to-day at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. A special call for all members to attend these services has been issued by the pastor, Rev. J. J. Schorer. Communion will be administered at both morning and evening services, and there will be sermons by the pastor. Subjects, Morning, "The Cloud of Witnesses Surrounding Us Today"; evening, "Whitten's Guest House."

Asbury Place Methodist Episcopal:
Preaching at 11 A. M. and 8:15 P. M. by the pastor, Rev. L. T. Williams.

Centenary Methodist: The pastor, Rev. J. N. Latham, D. D., will preach at 11 A. M. and 8:15 P. M. Subjects, Morning, "The Holy Catholic Church"; evening, "A Suicide on the Battlefield."

Allen Avenue Christian: Owing to the absence of the pastor, Rev. Henry Pearce Atkins, who is visiting in China, there will be no preaching to-day. The regular communion service will be held at 11 o'clock.

Seventh Street Christian: Preaching at 11 A. M. by Professor J. S. Thomas.
No evening service.

First Baptist: Rev. George W. Mc-Daniel, D. D., the pastor, will preach at 11 A. M. and 8:15 P. M.

Emmanuel, Henrico Parish: Sermon at 11:15 A. M. by Rev. G. P.
Craighill, rector of Epiphany Church, Barton Heights.

Ascension Chapel, Highland Park:
Services will be conducted at 8:15 P. M. by Rev. John Upshur, D. D.

GREAT INTEREST AROUSED IN SUNDAY-SCHOOL WORK

Sunday-school matters in Virginia have of late taken on great interest, and workers in that world-wide cause are much encouraged thereat. Readers of The Times-Dispatch have not yet forgotten the mammoth meeting of Men's Bible Class in the City Auditorium, and the remarkable parade of four thousand men. Since that time interest has grown in all departments of the work, and new interest has been created among some who were lukewarm.

In no phase of the work is this interest more apparent than in the State Sunday-School Association, the Virginia division of the great Interde-nominational and International Association, which is doing so much to advance Sunday-school work in all parts of North America and adjacent islands.

The International Association, it will be remembered, originated and continues the selection of the International Lessons so widely used by all denominations. It is also the originator, or at least the aggressive advocate, of all departments of the modern Sunday-school, and publishes pamphlets and employs special secretaries to assist them, such as the Graded Book of the Home Department, Teacher Training, Daily Bible Reading, Organized Adult Classes, Supplementary Lessons, etc.

In nearly every State is a division or branch of this great association, known by the names of the States in which they are. The Virginia State Sunday-School Association has been far behind those of some other States in active interest and in results accomplished. But as already stated, it is now taking on new life, and if the plans of the leaders do not fail Virginia will in time take her place among the first ranks.

The annual State convention was held in Norfolk in April, at which time plans were made and money was given to press the work more vigorously. The World's Convention, which met in Washington shortly after, increased the growing interest, and subsequent events have proven even more encouraging.

The work of the State association is to increase the interest and effectiveness of the Sunday-schools in both city and country by all means, and by accepted modern methods. It does not organize or conduct schools, leaving that wholly to the churches and denominations, but does, by informing teachers and officers of the best modern methods, seek to make all order to do this, branch associations are organized in the counties, cities and districts of the State.

Nearly half the counties have been organized, and others are falling in line. Many conventions have already been held, and local workers are busy arranging for others. Loudoun, Mathews and a half dozen others have met this month and last; Culpeper and Princess Anne meet this week and Surry, Southampton and Isle of Wight next week.

The officers of the State association for 1910 are: President, W. Frank Robinson, Norfolk; Treasurer, J. W.
Borum, of Norfolk; Chairman, Executive Committee, DeWitt Crane, of Newport News. The vice-presidents and members of the executive committee include many of the most prominent business and professional men, church workers of all denominations and from all parts of the State.

TEST FOR ENGLISH FLEET

All the Big Ships Must Remain at Sea During Manoeuvres.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] London, July 16.—The war fitness of the English fleet is to be put to a severe test during the forthcoming manoeuvres. Efforts are to be made to keep all the ships advanced, excepting torpedo craft and submarines, continuously at sea during the four weeks of the manoeuvres. No ship is to enter port save under very exceptional circumstances.
Communication with the shore will only be made by wireless telegraphy and by a regular service of scouts and dispatch vessels.

WEEK AT CITY HALL

Committees Anxious to Clear Docket of Old Council.

In an effort to clear the docket before the organization of the new Council in September, there will be meetings of several of the Council committees this week.

Those scheduled to meet at this time are:
Monday—Streets, 8 P. M.
Tuesday—Finance Committee, 8 P. M.
Wednesday—Special Committee on Salaries, 8 P. M.
Thursday—Grounds and Buildings, 8
P. M.

It is likely that special meetings of a number of the committees will be held during the next few days. Councilmembers are anxious to clear the docket of pending measures before they go to Baltimore on the baseball junketing trip.

Verdict Set Aside.

Judge Scott yesterday set aside the verdict in the case of William Starney, colored, recently convicted of felonously cutting Abraham Smith, colored, in a row at the State Fair last October.

Starney was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. Yesterday he established a plea of self-defense. Attorney Wendenberg represented Star-ney.

RUNAWAY GIRL GOING BACK HOME

Man Who Brought Her to Richmond From South Carolina Disappears.

Vaunting forth into a world of which she knew nothing and with a man, so it seems, she had never met before, Julia Hoover, of Spartanburg, S. C., seventeen years old, is now in the Associated Charities building under the charge of Secretary James Buchanan, anxious to return to her parents.

The girl is of tender years, whether her statement of her age is correct or not, and she is unsophisticated. Her story of her departure from Spartanburg is much like that of the stories of other girls. According to the account she gave to Captain McMahon she went to Spartanburg with her five brothers and missed them on the train back home. She was bewildered, and when a man approached her and offered to take her to a hotel she went with him. Later, according to her story, he suggested marriage; but whether a ceremony, mock or legal, was performed could not be learned.
But Miss Hoover and her new acquaintance came to Richmond and boarded in a house on East Marshall Street, where they lived as man and wife. The man deserted the girl, and sent another man, a friend evidently, to take her out and put her on a train for Petersburg. But the housekeeper became suspicious, and on Friday night she called in Policeman Johnson, and he called in Detective-Sergeant Wiltshire.

No Charge Against Her.
There were no charges against the girl, and the man had gone. So she was taken to the Associated Charities, and Captain McMahon, who had learned something of her story from her own lips, telegraphed to the chief of police in Spartanburg. Evidently the chief of police in that city turned the communication over to a relative, for an answer came back from T. P.
Cudd, who asked the police here to look out for a girl named Julia Bag-well, with request that he be notified if she were found. Julia Bagwell and Julia Hoover, it seems, are the same.
The name of Bagwell was assumed, and under that name the couple lived here two weeks.

The girl collapsed when Captain Mc-Mahon gently asked her about her history. She asked that she be sent back to her home.

In the second interview yesterday afternoon by Captain McMahon the girl said that Mc Cudd was a brother-in-law, and that her own mother was Hoover. Again she broke down and wept bitterly. Captain McMahon told her he would help her in any way possible, and she will probably be sent back home. There are no charges against her, but, but, he is ever founded, there will probably be charges preferred against the man who persuaded her to leave Spartanburg.

The girl's father is William H. Hoover, whose post-office address is Cow-pens, S. C. He has been notified by Captain McMahon of his daughter's predicament, and she will be sent back to him, according to her own wishes. In the meanwhile, she is being cared for at the Associated Charities, and will be kept there until her father, or some other relative, comes for her.

Week at the Lubin.

In addition to a display of late first-run pictures, the Lubin will offer this week an excellent bill of vaudeville features. Headlining the roster of vaudeville celebrities will be Houston and Olstead, dispensers of comedy, character and extremely ludicrous and heralded as one of the funniest comedy playlets ever presented.

Titus and Davis, a duo of eccentric comedians, come with a stock of new features and clever parodies.
Charley Carlos, a dashing young Spanish señorita, will provide a novelty dance number that is said to be most artistic. Naturally, successful Spanish dancing girls are noted for their beauty and vivacity, and their dances are the acme of perfection. The amateur nights on Thursday are providing a delightful feature of the Lubin's weekly entertainment.

Suit for Damages.

Claiming $500 damages, W. C. Bradley yesterday filed a suit in the Law and Equity Court against W. P. Vetch.
The suit grew out of a contested account. The last jury case will be tried in this court on July 27. The court will then adjourn for vacation, from August 1 to 5.

POLICE TO RAZE SANDS PROPERTY

Owner, in Washington, Declines to Accept Service—Houses Are Dangerous.

Johnson Sands, a lawyer of Washington, D. C., formerly of Richmond, where he owns a lot of real estate, must appear in the Police Court within the next ten days and agree to the raz-ing of three houses, 2608 East Franklin Street, his former home, and 401 and 408 Market Space, which Building Inspector Beck has said are in a dangerously dilapidated condition.

An officer, Gordon P. Smith, was sent to Washington last Saturday to notify Mr. Sands of the Building Inspector's decision, and he was summoned to appear. He became highly indignant and refused to accept service, ordering the officer out of his home.

But Mr. Sands' refusal to accept service will not avail. His property will be torn down at the expense of the city should he fail to appear and agree himself to perform that duty, and the material will be sold by the city to pay for the expense.

The police say that it is a safe bet that Mr. Sands will not appear here to represent his interests. A like case against him has been tried before. He was caught here on one of his visits and forced to accept service of a summons. He appeared in the Police Court.
But the city had his houses on East Main Street, which were then falling to pieces and affording a menace to every passer-by, torn down. The lots are still vacant, and they will probably continue to be vacant during the lifetime of Mr. Sands.

SWANSON AT MARTINSVILLE.

Former Governor Delivers Eloquent Address Before Summer School.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Martinsville, Va., July 16.—Former Governor Swanson delivered an eloquent and interesting address before the summer normal here last night, taking as his subject, education. He was introduced by Mayor Carter, and held the close attention of his audience for an hour and a half.
Mr. Swanson's speech was in part a resume of improvement in school conditions during the last few years, and in part a plea for more high schools, more school libraries, and especially for better teachers. He spoke of how poorly the teachers had been paid in the past, and called for improvements along this line.
Mr. Swanson spoke in glowing terms of Virginia's resources, and told the teachers to teach the children to remain in Virginia. In closing he paid a splendid tribute to the glory of Virginia's past.

FEDERAL COURT ADJOURNS UNTIL EARLY IN AUGUST

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals yesterday adjourned until the second Tuesday in August. The following opinion was announced: The case of John L. James, bankrupt, against Stone and Company and A. C. Ricard, trustee of John L. James, on appeal from the District Court at Wilmington, N. C., was affirmed. Judge Pritchard wrote the opinion.
